In WALKING TARGETS, Education's Whistleblower Beverly Eakman Exposes How Psychology Has Corrupted the American Education System

Washington, DC, February 12, 2008 – Bev Eakman's newly released book, Walking Targets: How Our Psychologized Classrooms Are Producing a Nation of Sitting Ducks further establishes Ms. Eakman as a leading expert in the field of exposing the agenda to manipulate child behavior.

"I take issue with teaching methodologies whose primary purpose is to target the emotions rather than challenge the intellect." stated Ms. Eakman.

Walking Targets points to an agenda where "educators often think that they are using scientific methodology to transmit 'thinking skills' or that they are "empowering pupils to be 'decision-makers.'"

In "Bushwhacking Johnny," one of the 40+ articles in her book, Eakman explains that teachers should not exist to strip away a parent's belief system from children in their classrooms, and to then transmit "new" values to them. She highlights a North Carolina in-service workshop where educators were given a seven-point "ethical outcomes" list to instill in their students. Among the points were "There is no right and wrong, only conditioned responses" and "The collective good is more important than the individual."

E. Ray Moore, Chaplain (Lt.Col. USAR Ret., Director, Exodus Mandate) says of Walking Targets, "Beverly Eakman astutely chronicles the psychological abuse taking place in the public-school classroom with impeccable credentials and incontrovertible conclusions."

The Honorable Samuel Rohrer, PA House of Representatives commented, "Beverly Eakman has opened doors to truth once again. No one has conducted more thorough research exposing that broad attack on our children than Bev. Walking Targets is a must read for every parent, educator, and public policy analyst."

This 287 page compilation of her published articles, capitalizes on the success of her three previously published books: Cloning of the American Mind: Eradicating Morality through Education, Educating for the New World Order, Microchipped: How the Education Establishment Took Us Beyond Big Brother and her workbook How to Counter Group Manipulation Tactics. Walking Targets is available online and through Ms. Eakman's publisher at www.MidnightWhistler.com for $24.95.
